WHAT IS YOUR EXPERIENCE WITH EXHIBITING, PERFORMING OR PROGRAMMING PUBLIC ART?

IN THE SPACE PROVIDED, BRIEFLY DESCRIBE YOUR PROJECT: (Additional pages may be attached: 1 full page maximum.)

The Farmory is bringing a sustainable indoor aquaponics farm and fish hatchery to Green Bay and the larger Northeast Wisconsin region. The historic armory building is being renovated to grow fresh produce and fish. This farm will operate as a self-sustaining non-profit and all revenue generated from our farm products will go toward providing community residents with job skills and agricultural training, materials to grow food at home, and scholarships for pursuing higher education and entrepreneurial development- all to increase the self-sustainability of area residents. The employment, economic development, and food-related benefits of the operation will provide a triple bottom line of "people, planet, and profit."

To create a sense of "community, connection, and place" around the The Farmory and all stakeholders involved, our resident team will focus on creating a Art Project for The Farmory, in collaboration with local artist Kent Hutchison and the Navarino Neighborhood Association.

Under the supervision of Kent, to ensure quality, technique, durability, craftsmanship, and beauty, we will be creating a unique piece for The Farmory. We will create a three dimensional sculptural piece that can be displayed outside, in front of The Farmory building. The motif of this piece will focus around the "roots" of our building-water: as this is the connecting factor between the history of the building (The Allouez Mineral Springs Bottling Co) and the present/future (to house an indoor aquaponics farm and fish hatchery). The piece was designed specifically to be interactive, so that neighborhood residents, especially children from Howe Elementary School, can engage with the piece. It will have an edible garden surrounding the sculpture that neighborhood members can participate in. Additionally, it will be used in educational demonstrations.

Our plan is to unveil this art piece at The Farmory's 100-year anniversary of the building, where a ribbon cutting ceremony and public open house will take place in Summer 2019.

PROJECT OBJECTIVE:

By completing The Farmory Art Project:
•Farmory staff, volunteers, and community stakeholders (specifically the residents of the Navarino neighborhood where the Farmory is locatted) will strengthen their working relationships, build connections and networks for the future
•Participants will learn how public art contributes to building a sense of place within a community
•The property and community will benefit from turning a dilapidated, vacant building into an attractively renovated structure with beautiful, lasting art piece for our community to enjoy for years to come.

* IN-KIND is defined as non-cash donations of goods and services such as labor, facilities, or equipment to carry out a project. Typically, skilled or professional labor can be valued at the prevailing rate that the individual making the donation has a record of receiving in the field. For example Grantee X counts donation of Venue Y at Venue Y's normal rental rate and the donation of their set designer at the designer's average wage of $17.00 per hour x's the number of hours they will work on the project. If audited, these amounts could be verified, by showing the posted rental agreement for Venue Y and previous pay stubs of the set designer.

Grants MAY be used for artists' fees, legally required royalties, production expenses, space rental, marketing costs, purchase of expendable materials, required insurance, city-related expenses such as street closures and police/fire protection. GBPAC grants CANNOT be used to fund prizes or awards, scholarships, tuition, permanent equipment, travel outside of Green Bay, refreshments and/or debts incurred for past activities.
