Election Day Report

08/11/2020

Alder Barbara Dorff-Elections Committee

On Tuesday, 8/11/2020, as an Alder and a representative of the Ad Hoc Elections Committee, I visited a total of 9 polling locations and interviewed poll workers, including inspectors and chief inspectors regarding what suggestions they might have to improve the election process for November 3rd, 2020.

Overall, this election experience appeared to be a very positive one for both voters and poll workers. The purpose of the observations I will make in this report is to focus on what can be done even better. I am a firm believer in always looking for opportunities to improve and I also believe that interviewing front line workers gives us insights we may not otherwise get as a planning team.

I will begin with suggestions heard at multiple polling places by multiple poll workers. These suggestions may be able to be implemented at every polling location in November. I will then report individual observations made at each of the 9 polling locations I was able to visit in another document by the next meeting.

Common Suggestions

- Purchase vinyl or plastic privacy sleeves for the ballots. The cardboard ones are not able to be effectively cleaned and may present a health hazard.
- Use three ring binders for the voting lists. This was a suggestion that I was told has been made for years. Several Chief Inspectors and their teams actually transferred the lists into binders and three hole punched them. The binders were much easier to fit through the slots in the plastic shields and much easier for the voters to sign. If we have the money to make this transition, I would make this a priority.
- Using single serve coffee machines have coffee available for poll workers and well as water if not already available. We don't need to buy the coffee makers; we can ask people with a Keurig to bring from home. We should supply the pods and creamer and sugar. It is so important to treat our poll workers with respect and kindness. They work an extraordinarily long day and should have a few creature comforts.
- Supply brightly colored vinyl tape to be used to make arrows and mark off social distancing locations. Some locations had this tape others did not. It is very helpful for the voters to get those types of cues to know where to go and where to stand.
- Make 1, 2, 3 signs that can be put up on the plastic shields so the voters know where to start. Super simple thing to supply. Can be laminated for re-use or just a piece of paper with the numbers on.

Election Day Report

Alder Barbara Dorff-Elections Committee

- Offer people with no masks curbside voting. Sure some voters are making a statement by not wearing a mask because they do not have to wear a mask to vote. Do not argue with anyone who does not wish to curbside vote. Others have a legitimate medical condition and may be very willing to vote curbside to make it safer for other voters and the poll workers. Make big signs. CURBSIDE VOTING AVAILABLE IF YOU CANNOT WEAR A MASK. Many poll workers mentioned that people were voting without masks and they did not feel comfortable with this. Let's do what we can to reduce this concern.
- MORE TRAINING REQUESTED: Multiple first time workers including chief inspectors asked for another training session before November and would prefer a socially distanced in person session.
- Either provide a hotline for questions and/or visually designate experienced people at each site to answer questions. This was a particular problem at the larger sites. Knowing who to ask, quickly, is important. The Sears' site in particular needs this support. Examples were given to me of the same question being asked and different answers being given each time.
- Better, bigger signage to designate entrances and exits and provide directions within buildings.
- Provide a receptacle for clean pens and used pens that need to be sanitized. Provide a large sign saying please return your pen to this bin.
- Make the option for two shifts more available if possible. Tell workers if they find a reliable partner that they can split the shift. Not everyone, but make this available for some.
